

Certified Team Kanban Practitioner

Course Overview

This one day hands-on course follows the official Lean Kanban University (LKU) training materials provided by David J Anderson, Mike Burrows and other leading Lean Kanban experts.

Using a variety of hands-on exercises and discussions, you will learn about the basics of the Kanban Method and gain a solid understanding of the principles and practices of Kanban. You will be introduced to the “alternative path to agility” offered by Lean Kanban.

Course outcomes

Upon completion of this course, you will be able to:

- Design and implement a Team Kanban board
- Understand the basics of visualising different types of work
- Understand how to proceed to the next level with Kanban

Who will this course benefit?

This Certified Team Kanban Practitioner (TKP) course is beneficial for anyone who is part of a product development or knowledge work environment and who is interested in discovering how Kanban can help improve working environments. Kanban works across multiple functions of an organisation, from senior members of staff looking to adopt Lean Management to members of delivery teams willing to improve their working practices.

Previous participants of this course include those in senior management positions as well as programme and project managers; product managers; product owners; business analysts; scrum team members; scrum masters; team leads; change agents; product and software developers and testers as well as agile coaches and practitioners.
